ARCHITECT'S DRAWING OF THE FRONT OF THE NEW KING'S PALACE

KING'S PALACE READY FOR BUSINESS TODAY

Object Is to Clear Out Stock So as to Facilitate Reconstruction of Burned Building.

WORK WON'T HINDER BUSINESS

King's Palace store today begins its "rebuilding sale," which was planned to clear out as much stock as possible and as quickly as possible, so as to facilitate reconstruction of the building, which will be carried on without interrupting the store's business. Seventh street shoppers are likely to find some unusual bargains at the sale.

The plans of the new store, which is to replace the building recently damaged by fire, have been drawn by Frederic B. Pyle, and show that Seventh street is to be ornamented by an exceedingly handsome structure. Follow the tile will be used in the face with a highly decorated effect, but the front of the building will be mostly plate glass, so as to flood the store with sunlight during the day time. In seeking to carry out the daylight idea, Mr. Pyle has provided on the second story, windows which extend from floor to ceiling, and a wide balcony. There will be large windows on the third floor, too. Extensive alterations will be made throughout the interior of the store, including innovations such as rest rooms, an employees' dining-room, refreshment booth, etc. The work will be done in such a way as not to interfere with the daily trade of the store.

HUERTA AT LAST GIVES UP REIGN

tion and capable administration. It is no secret that the administration is more anxious regarding the capacity of the constitutionalists for self-restraint and enlightened government, after the recent evidence of the disintegrating forces at work among them, than was the case last winter.

The retirement of Huerta is regarded here as another demonstration of the axiom in Latin-American political affairs, to the effect that no government south of the Rio Grande can survive unless it enjoys the support of the United States. It is believed that on the conduct of the constitutional leaders, for whose benefit the United States has aided in the elimination of Huerta, depends the future fate of Mexico. Only in so far as they are willing to make the government which they set up in Mexico conform to the wishes of the United States will they succeed in averting physical interference in their country by American forces, is the opinion of observers here.

By the administration, by the constitutionalists, and by the mediators, it is taken for granted that the Carbajal government will consider the making of some sort of an arrangement for turning the capital over to the revolutionists, its only objective and reason for existence. The constitutionalists have been for days assessing the value of Carbajal, nor any other successor to the Huerta government will they make any terms, except the unconditional surrender of the government and capital. They insist that they must build entirely anew in Mexico; that a military government must be set up in the capital, to wipe the slate clean, eliminate all enemies to their cause and establish reforms.

BLUE BLOOD BATTLE FOR CHILDREN SECRET

Crowd Jams Court in Which Duke and Duchess of Westminster Have Legal Fight.

Special Cable to The Washington Herald.

London, July 15.—The greatest secrecy is being observed in the high courts, in which the Duke and Duchess of Westminster, the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, and the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, are engaged in a legal battle for the custody of their two daughters, the ladies Ursula and Mary Grosvenor. A large array of legal talent was engaged by both sides. The duchess appeared in court to press her plea, but the duke was not present.

For a long while powerful influences have been brought to bear to keep the marital troubles of the Westminsters out of court. It was only at the personal request of Queen Mary that the duchess agreed to take no drastic step, provided she should be suitably provided for and given the custody of the children. Today's action shows that the matter has not been settled, despite Queen Mary's efforts.

Apple and pear trees have recently been shipped from Oregon and California to Portugal, a shipment of two thousand having been made and successfully planted.

He heard daddy say, "There's a nigger in the woodpile." He wonders why daddy doesn't go and help the poor nigger man out. But no, daddy is a very queer man. He just smokes his pipe and doesn't seem to care one bit.

BUTCHERS SHOOTING BOYCOTT BUGABOO

Promise Housewives that While Meat Would Not Get Much Lower, Prices at Least Will Not Go Higher.

ASSURANCES CHEER CLUBWOMEN

The butchers are shooting away the boycott bugaboo by promising the housewives of Washington that meat prices, though they will not go down to any extent, will not go up any higher—for a little while at least.

The clubwomen and housewives who were so strongly assenting with the plans of New York, Chicago, St. Paul and Detroit women, where they have boycotted the meat counter because of the prohibitive prices, now say they would save their energy this weather unless the prices take another jump.

A butcher in Center Market yesterday could give no hope that the high prices would come down, but said that the packers had gone the limit now, and that they could not go any higher. "Meats are higher everywhere in the summer and there are many reasons for it," this butcher said. "The retailer cannot hold meat over for several days, but has to sell each day's supply, and therefore does not order so much, then the rumps, knuckles and shins, which we sell for some in the winter times, are dead losses to the butcher in the summer and are given away for dog meat, making the prices of the choice cuts soar."

The regulation price of beef at the established stands in the District yesterday ran: Round steak, 15 cents; sirloin, 35 cents; porter house steak, 35 cents; rib roast, 35 cents; chuck roast, 15 cents; and stewing meat 15 cents, with soup meat, 10 cents.

WILSON INVESTIGATING CIVIL SERVICE BOARD

Inquiry Is Being Made Into Complaints Against Commissioners by Kern and Cullup.

FLAVOR OF G. O. P., IS CHARGE

President Wilson is investigating the charges of offensive partisanship and hostility to the administration on the part of the Civil Service Commission, as a result of the action made by Kern and Representative Cullup, of Indiana.

The commissioners are John A. McHenry, president; Charles M. Galloway and Herman W. Craven. Democratic members of the House charge that the board consists of two bull moose and a Democrat. McHenry has long been a close personal friend of Col. Roosevelt. Acts of the board, it is contended, prove a desire to promote the interest of Republicans in the government service and prevent the appointment and promotion of Democrats.

Senator Kern and Representative Cullup reported to the President reprehensible conduct on the part of investigators and alleged unfair action by the Civil Service Commission in the hiring of the postmaster at Meron, a small town in Indiana, when Cleveland H. McKinley, a Democrat, was adversely reported.

PUBLICITY EFFORT LOSES.

Senate Turns Down Borah's Resolution on Treaty Proceedings.

By a vote of more than two to one the Senate yesterday refused to consider in open session the resolution of Senator Borah for publicity of the testimony taken before the Foreign Relations Committee in the matter of the proposed treaties with Nicaragua and Colombia. The vote came on an appeal from the decision of the Vice President that Senator Borah's resolution be considered in open session.

When the resolution came up Senator Borah avowed himself ready for a vote at once if he could be accorded a roll call. Just as the roll call was about to be ordered Senator Stone, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, raised the point of order that, as the resolution referred to the Colombian treaty now before his committee as an executive matter, it would have to be considered in executive session. Vice President Marshall sustained the point of order, and Senator Borah appealed from the decision of the chair. The chair's ruling was sustained 12 to 13. The resolution will be taken up later in executive session.

The table was shaped as an L and decorated with fifty electric light roses. Among those present were Secretary Lane, First Assistant Secretary James Assistant Secretary Sweeney, Van H. Manning, Cato Sells, G. M. Saltzgeber, Clay Tallman, Thomas Ewing, G. O. Smith, P. H. Newell, P. C. West, J. I.
